

Custom Education Solutions

Dear Educators:

This letter serves as notification that all Custom Education Solutions collections curated in our curriculum showroom are sole source.

Our expertly curated book collections and Instructional Resources are only available through Custom Education Solutions, and each is identified by a unique product code. They are proprietary offerings protected by copyright and owned or controlled by Custom Education Solutions or the party credited as the provider of the content.

Over more than 18 years, we have collected proprietary metadata on thousands of book titles. This data is ever evolving and updated daily, adding current reading levels and relevant, searchable tags to provide powerful insights, which we use to match the right books with even the most specific educator requests. We consistently refresh our title offerings and curate with cultural relevance, inclusion, and representation in mind.

Our Educational Consultants will provide personal shopping assistance by visiting our curriculum showroom in helping you with title selection, providing you with a price quote and helping place your order.

To place an order, please send us your purchase order via email to customerservice@customedu.com. You can also contact our Customer Service team directly at 888-323-3134.

Thank you for choosing Custom Education Solutions for your school and classroom library needs.

Sincerely,

Denise Retka
